To Christine Massey and Mark Bailey

I am writing about an issue in the comments on my most recent substack post. A commenter named "Allen" had made a couple of derogatory statements and on his last comment alluded to what he thinks are attributes that aim to reveal some personal information about myself. Allen is known to be trouble to others and is clearly a moniker for someone else we know in this space.

Now, at 70+ years old and not in need of a job or any connection to organized society I really don't care. However, this is a nasty concept because that information can only have been gotten from one of you, and both of you have been snooping around on myself and dpl and Christene said my past work made me a "hypocrite" in a comment the other day. About what doesn't matter. This portends a nasty trend that I have made some plans for if it continues. Since you are supposed to be so busy with your own work and I am a small writer, this means you are part of something larger telling you to do this. Since I hassle Reese and you have connections to Info Wars being on Icke shows, well....

The point being if you wish to cross a line from topics and get personal I will have to do something about that. If you desist, I do not need to do anything. I just want to write substacks and that's it.

But, I will make full posts about both you together and separately and put them also on Odysee, Bitchute, and Rumble videos with the following information below if you or your "Allen" associates persist. I banned Allen but that doesn't matter, neither do any of your denials about your knowing Allen matter to me. You already know I am easily capable and willing to make posts about persons who talk science BS but that could move to this nasty personal stuff if you really want to have some reputation problem to your monetized SSs and Odysee channel and I am well aware how to SEO them so that they will come up on the right pane of a Dr Sam Bailey Odysee video. I have now made a substack post and it is in draft form and that has been given to a few people, some who have access to the PM SS account as well.

I have this information:

1. Mark's email asking me to unrecommend Matt's Microscopy.
2. Screen recording of my Video Chat with Mark where he shows me his looking up a LinkedIn page for dpl.

3. Many comments from Massey that show berating myself and snooping around about dpl.
4. Story about the Baileys removing their video about my Time Lapse investigation, an asinine unliking all of 100+ posts, and 4-5 of the no virus people unrecommending me on the same day proving you are in a controlled group. I do not give one shit about any of these things you have done and they have not slowed down the popularity of PM who does not need SS money anyway.

All of the above is already shared with a few close associates. Honestly, I am not interested in bothering with exposing your shenanigans but will do so if you make any further derogatory personal comments that attempt to expose my personal nature even if they are tangential or incorrect.

Otherwise I have these requests:

1. Christine to desist from any further comments on my SS posts. I will ban you on your next comment. You do not need to bother with my silly SS nor get in conflict with my readers many who are complaining to me to ditch you. Stick to work you need to do, not this "Team Enigma" kind of Intel bullshit.
2. Both of you, make sure all of your Allen people stop writing about me anywhere, because that will make me put out the first SS post and Odysee video about your doxing, censoring, and derogatory behaviors and will name you. Stick to your own work.
3. I do not use your names in my posts or comments regarding stuff that no-virus people do, and do not plan to, but that could change if you get personal again.

Now, leave me alone and I will leave you alone and will not pursue anything about either of you on SS, Odysee or Bitchute or Rumble. Whatever you do or don't say on topics however is free choice for anyone to discuss on their own sites. You have to live with that as all of us do.

Yawn. I've had zero need to "snoop" on you and have zero interest in your threats or paranoid/imaginative ramblings. Nor do I control "Allen". Interesting/weird that you would threaten to ~do something~ to the Baileys and I based on someone else's behaviour.

"Actually I'm 65 and still spending a full day in psychiatric practice every day. I just got into this viro stuff because I knew I was being lied to every day. In some younger days I worked in Pharma in the daytime (for 20 yrs) and did psychiatry at night. I worked on Tamiflu, Interferon for Hep C, and a meningitis Vax including many others. Besides standard sales and marketing fraud and hiding SAEs, I never heard anything wasn't right until Covid."

Me pointing out "DPL" aka Dirk Loots' unwillingness to show his face, and his recent secrecy about his name (which is already public in various places) and his secrecy about his background is not "snooping". Logic please.

If you have a problem receiving feedback to your continual smears on "the well known no-virus people", oh well, that is  ... your problem.

I reserve the right to respond and defend myself and others, if/when you continue your illogical, vague and sometimes incoherent accusations/insinuations/critiques, from your safety blanket of anonymity.

Thank you for acknowledging receipt of my mail. So now you know where I stand in my plans against personal information exposure and you and the Bailey's will have to live with that in the case that is trip-wired as I have honestly explained so that you have that scenario in advance.

If you're trying to insinuate that I've consented or agreed to your plans to continue with your bizarre public smears, 🖐️ you're confused.

Funny how you're all-in when it comes to discussing other people's backgrounds and accuse someone like Michael Yeadon of supposedly not doing enough given his personal background... while concealing 🖐️ your day job and your background and enjoying 🖐️ your safety blanket of anonymity.
